Mrs. Pat Starr and niece, Helen Howlett, left the latter part of last week for Reedsburg where they will visit with relatives.

STARTED BREAKING GROUND

Jensen and Anderson started breaking ground on Fourth Avenue Monday for their new garage, which they will erect there. They had one of the Fordson tractors at work clearing up the small trees and brush, the work progressing rather rapidly with the tractor in use. The work of excavating and building will be rushed with the expectation of having the building ready for occupancy as soon as possible.

OFFER BOOKS FOR VACATIONS

Miss Solheim, the new librarian, has announced that people who are leaving on vacations are being granted special privileges at the Public Library now, and that those wishing to take a book with them on their trip can draw it out of the library for a period of six weeks. A number of interesting novels have been received and are especially attractive vacation books.

NOTED SPEAKER EXPLAINS LABOR TROUBLE TO PEOPLE

John P. Burke, of Philadelphia, a nation wide labor speaker, gave a very strong address on the labor question at the Armory Wednesday evening when several hundred citizens of this city, Port Edwards, Nekooza and Biron had gathered to hear the present problems discussed. The crowd filled the large Armory and was representative of the interest that is being shown in this question. The audience further showed their interest in the cause when they gave freely to a collection which was taken up during the evening for the benefit of the strikers and their families at Port Edwards and Nekooza.

The difference between the men and the management of the Nekooza-Edwards mills is very slight at the present time, Mr. Burke explained to the large audience. The eight hour day clause, he stated, was the principal thing that the two could not come to an agreement on. He upheld the men in their cause and expressed his desire of an early settlement.

Mr. Burke traced the growth of the labor union movement in this country during the past fifty years, told how they had grown stronger and stronger, and how there was a necessity for the trade union now where there was not a necessity one hundred years ago. In those times, he explained, the wealth was on the farms, and the people were not working under strained conditions in factories. Mr. Burke stated that probably many would consider him an agitator who came here to stir up the people, however, he said, Washington, Lincoln, and every other man who became famous in history by standing for something, he thought would better the people was called an agitator, and that if he was one, he was in good company.

A reference to Debs brought a roar of applause from the audience. Mr. Burke told the people that he had been in riots, attacked by the police and lodged in jail.

"Lots of good men are in jail," he stated, "Debs is in jail."

This evidently pleased the audience who responded by laughing and clapping.

ARRESTED AT FIRE

Dr. J. J. Looze, David Levine and Walter Mead have appeared in Judge Getts court during the past week charged with running over the fire hose. All pleaded guilty and paid $1 and costs apiece. The practice of cars following up the fire department, and in many cases passing them and running directly ahead of the team, will be stopped, according to the fire department and police officials. They state that at every fire the autos are now so thick that it is hard for the firemen to carry out their work. Recently as one of the firemen jumped from the hose cart to make a connection he was nearly run down by a car speeding directly behind the cart. The practice is a dangerous one and the authorities intend to discourage it.

Mrs. Frank Carey and children returned the first of the week from a month's visit with relatives at Marquette, Mich.

WILL COLE HAD SEVERE ATTACK OF HEART TROUBLE

Will Cole, of Vesper, game warden for this district, had a severe attack of heart trouble one day last week, his condition being rather serious for a time. He has since been getting along nicely, however, and will evidently suffer no bad effects from the attack.

Mr. Cole had been working in the hay field on the day he was stricken, and came into the house about noon. He had remarked to Mrs. Cole that his heart was bothering him but had not thought much more of the matter. Shortly after sitting down to the table he became very seriously ill, and fell, unconscious. Phil Goss, who was near the house, was summoned and thru some attendance was able to render sufficient aid to restore consciousness. In the meantime a doctor had been summoned and since that time Mr. Cole has been getting along nicely.

NEKOOSA-EDWARDS STRIKE UNSETTLED

Proposals and counter proposals, from the men, the management and from a citizens committee have failed to change the situation in the Nekooza-Edwards strike, the result being that the mills are still closed. Several meetings where it was considered that both sides had conceded enough to bring about an agreement failed to materialize in any direct results.

Saturday night the men held a meeting at the pavilion, when it was thought that a settlement would be brought about, the company having made a proposal which appeared to have the concessions that were in demand. Most of the demands were granted but it was stipulated that these things would be tried for a period of four months and if not agreeable at the end of that time they would be submitted to arbitration. This did not meet with the approval of the men who refused to put the matter to a vote Saturday night after the matter was explained.

A meeting called Monday night at the pavilion failed to bring about any results, the men listening to another proposal the mill company had to make. This had been brought about thru the co-operation of the citizens of this city and a group of the Nekooza business and professional men. This also failed to bring about the desired results, and while it extended the trial of the eight hour schedule and the time and one-half for overtime to a period of six months, instead of four, the men refused to accept the agreement.

The committee representing the men, however, presented a counter proposal, which is in the hands of the management at the present time, but which has not been agreed upon as yet.

RED ARROW MAN MARRIED TO LOCAL GIRL TUESDAY

Miss Pearl Dolores Rosenbaum, and Mr. Robert J. Messner, both of this city, were united in marriage at the Catholic church Tuesday morning at eight o'clock. Rev. Redding performed the ceremony.

They were attended by Miss Susan Van Ert, as bridesmaid, while George McLain, of Milwaukee, was the groomsmen. The bride was very prettily gowned in white silk voile, trimmed with silver lace, while the bridesmaid made a very attractive appearance in white crepe. The groom wore the uniform of the Thirty-Second Division, two gold chevrons on the sleeve indicating that he had served his country abroad for a period of more than a year. The groomsmen was also attired in uniform, wearing the blue of the navy.

Following the ceremony the young people and their friends were guests at the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding dinner and later a luncheon was served. The relatives and close friends of both the bride and groom had gathered and a very enjoyable day and evening was spent by the wedding party and their guests. The home had been extensively decorated in honor of the event. American flags and attractive patriotic designs having been used in honoring the heroes of the recent war.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rosenbaum, and while a Grand Rapids girl, has been in Milwaukee for the past four years, where she has been attending school. She is a talented violinist and a most estimable young lady who has many friends here and in Milwaukee. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Messner, and has recently returned from France, where he spent two years fighting on five fronts with the Thirty-Second division. Mr. Messner was formerly employed as a barber and also a contractor, but will return to his barbering trade for the present. The young people will make their home in this city for the present, and start in their wedded life with the best wishes of the Tribune and a host of friends here.

H. B. Tuttle left the first of the week for Madison, where he entered a hospital for treatment. Mr. Tuttle may also take treatment in Chicago before he returns.

Quarter-Billion Dollars for Roads Before 1922

Recent reviews of the road building situation in the United States, sent out by the United States department of labor, have brought many reports of new projects to the information and education service of the department. There are available for use between now and 1921 for state roads funds to the amount of $268,750,000. For the present fiscal year there is available $77,600,000.

SOLDIERS WELCOME PROGRAM COMPLETE

The committee in charge of the Welcome for the Soldiers of the southern half of Wood County have their work pretty well in hand and have a program arranged that promises to make the two days the most attractive that people of Grand Rapids have experienced. Nothing has been secured that is not absolutely the best and the days will be filled with vaudeville attractions, races, aquatic sports, parades and entertainments for the boys. A big banquet at the Armory when all the returned service men will be dined by the people of this section of the county, will occur Wednesday evening. The men are urged to wear their uniform when they come in to town for the big days. A good many people are going to come to Grand Rapids for the express purpose to see some of their friends who went to war. They want to see the boys in uniform and it's up to the boys to afford them this opportunity. The welcome is being put on for the benefit of the soldiers and unless the men unite in wearing their uniforms no one will know who they are entertaining.

The program opens early Wednesday morning when all the visiting soldiers, sailors and marines will register. The other attractions, band concerts, free vaudeville attractions, and other features will take up the balance of the morning. In the afternoon there will be the races and aquatic sports, free outdoor attractions, the banquet for the soldiers in the evening and a big pavement dance near the Armory in the evening. The members of Co. K have also been invited to attend the banquet for the returned service men. While Co. K was a home unit and did not wander abroad to locate trouble, they had plenty to do right at home, and along with turning out every few minutes for some occasion or other, managed to do their share. Along with the regular attractions booked by the Committee there will be many carnival attractions here which will add to the amusement. Thursday will see that big parade which promises to excel anything in this line that has ever been held here. The women's clubs, Red Cross stores, private individuals, manufacturing concerns and a host of others are preparing floats to make it attractive to the visitors. Cars will be decorated for the occasion and the affair should be an unusual one. The balance of the day is filled with attractions of all kinds and the program includes all of the entertainment until a late hour in the evening.

BREWERY MEN STRIKE BUT RETURN TO WORK

The twelve employees of the brewery took Tuesday afternoon off when they went out on a strike, returning to work at six o'clock that evening when they discovered that they had nothing to strike about and were all perfectly satisfied.

The trouble started when at a meeting held Saturday afternoon they revised the pay schedule, themselves, which it seems should be done at union headquarters rather than by the men without authority. At the time the union was formed at the brewery Mr. Lutz urged the men to get into it. He reached a satisfactory agreement with the organizer, many of the conditions pending upon whether or not the ban on making beer was lifted. As this matter had not been cleared up as yet, some of the questions are still pending. The men demanded that these be settled immediately, and that their new pay schedule be adopted. Mr. Lutz accepted neither and stated that he would get a man here from headquarters to decide it, but the leaders decided to return to work. The rest of the men were satisfied anyway, they state, and were ready to go back.

The company is running at the present time turning out near beer and as it may be only a matter of a few weeks before they know what their future will be, there was no need of there being any branch between the men and the employers. The strike, it appears, was called without authority from headquarters and according to other union officials in direct violation of union rules.

RUDOLPH GIRL IS INJURED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Miss Anna Van Lith, of Rudolph, is in the hospital suffering from cuts about her head and face as the result of a collision between an auto in which she was riding and the evening Northwestern passenger, Wednesday evening, Ben Brey, of Milladore, who was riding with her in the car, escaped injury. As Brey tells the story they were coming east on Grand Avenue from the St. Paul depot. He was not very familiar with the town and did not know that there was an evening train due at that time. As he neared the track Miss Van Lith saw the train and warned him, but the train was right on them and the only thing he could do was swing the car to the left.

The locomotive struck the rear end of the car, throwing Miss Van Lith out onto the pavement. Brey lying in the car. The young lady was picked up unconscious and rushed to the hospital, where she received medical attention and is getting along nicely. The car was turned completely around and was badly damaged. Miss Van Lith suffered a bad cut over her eye, and some other cuts and bruises about the head. Should not further complications set in she will soon be out again.

Alvin Garber paid a fine of $1 and costs in Judge Getts court Thursday morning for speeding the evening previous on Grand Avenue. Garber states that he has a foot feed for his gasoline near the foot brake and while he thought he was actually pressing on the foot throttle, increasing the speed of the car.

FIRE DESTROYS RUDOLPH BARN AND CROP OF HAY

Early Sunday morning a large barn owned by Peter Mitchell and located on his farm in the town of Rudolph, burned to the ground, destroying the building and a large crop of hay which had been placed there within the last couple of weeks. The origin of the fire is unknown but as there is no other cause probable it is supposed that it started from spontaneous combustion. There were about fifty tons of hay in the barn, almost the entire crop which had been taken off the fields this year. Four pigs, the cow shed and chicken coop were also destroyed in the fire. The cows, two horses, an auto and buggy were all saved thru the efforts of Mr. Mitchell and his family, who discovered the flames in time to remove the animals and vehicles from the building. Fortunately there was not a heavy wind or the fire would have destroyed the house as well. The loss is a heavy one, however, especially at this time of the year.

BRINGS BACK BRIDE HE WON OVERSEAS

Private O. H. Sharkey, (first class) returned last week from overseas, where he had spent more than a year helping the Allied Armies win the war—and other things. One of the other things that he won while over there was a little French bride, Mme. Marie Louise Scrobaux, before she was married, now Mrs. O. H. Sharkey. Mr. and Mrs. Sharkey have settled down in this city and will reside here. She says she likes Grand Rapids—likes the American people, and knows that she will be happy in a prosperous growing country, away from the devastation and desolation of the war swept areas. Mr. Sharkey, a veteran of many campaigns, also wants to settle down to a more retired life and is satisfied that Grand Rapids is a pretty good town.

Enlisting with the heavy artillery in Milwaukee, Mr. Sharkey was placed in the Thirty-Eighth division, who he stayed with thruout his enlistment. Sailing in February, 1918, he landed at Bordeaux, going to the front a short time later.

It was in June 1918 that Mr. Sharkey, with his division, arrived at the little town near the Chateau Thierry sector. Continuous shelling had reduced most of the buildings to ruins. Residents who had occupied their homes there had fled to other parts of the country, and were beginning to return to the ruins of their former abode. Devastation and ruin marked the scenes which had once been picturesque France.

Among the refugees who had returned to this little village were the Scrobaux family, who had been driven from the Germans by going to Nancy. The restaurant which they had conducted was reopened. The soldiers were invited to vary their diet from the rations that they were being given, and with the others Mr. Sharkey became a patron of the French eating place.

Friendship with Mme. Marie grew into love and brought promises of a return to the little French village when the Germans had been driven back across the Rhine. Fighting on the Chateau Thierry front, from there to the Argonne, Cambria and many other places where his companions felt day after day in battle, Sharkey went thru without a scratch. Arduous duties of military life on the western front, gas attacks and hardships did not let him forget his promise, and when the armistice was signed he was again transferred to the little French village which had now taken on a gay aspect. Ruins were swiftly being cleared, farm and home inhabited and the refugees had returned from the neighboring cities.

However, the signing of the armistice had evidently only started the Grand Rapids man's troubles, for a request for permission to get married brought out a complication of setbacks which threatened for a time to seriously delay the ceremony. These things to Paris to secure the necessary papers, a certificate of his character from this city, and a number of other requirements were finally fulfilled and the ceremony was performed January 15, 1919. A full military wedding with all the attending honors were accorded to Mr. and Mrs. Sharkey, who were the first to participate in a French-American wedding on that sector.

Things were made easier after the wedding and the armistice arranged it so that the couple could return to this country on the same boat, the bride being given first class accommodations. Mr. Sharkey speaks very highly of the treatment accorded both he and his wife by the Red Cross and the Salvation Army, who aided them in getting their trips arranged.

Interesting stories of German traps, fountain pens filled with nitroglycerine, death trays arranged with a bayonet stuck in a tree which is attached to a supply of explosives, pulling out the bayonet setting off the explosive, are told by Private Sharkey. One of the most dangerous traps they set on their front, he states, was tying a rabbit by the foot to the trigger of a machine gun, everytime the rabbit would jerk it would fire the gun.

Mr. Sharkey speaks French about as readily as he does English and was able to see and hear of many more things than many could who were unable to speak the language.

BOUGHT VESPER BANK STOCK

A number of prominent bankers and business men of this city and other parts of the county have bought the stock in the Vesper State Bank formerly owned by P. W. Ellsworth, which is a controlling interest in the concern. Mr. Ellsworth has been cashier of the bank and retired to take a vacation from the work. The new and old stockholders of the concern expect to meet in the near future when a cashier will be selected.

MAY ORGANIZE NEW FURNITURE CO. HERE

A good representation of the business men of Grand Rapids gathered at the Elks Club Tuesday evening where the matter of organizing a new furniture company in this city was taken up. After hearing the proposition thoroughly discussed, having the figures put up to them and questions that were brought up answered, most of the men present expressed themselves as being favorably impressed with the proposition. A number backed up their impression by taking substantial blocks of stock and from the manner in which it has started out the factory will probably be established.

Mayor Briere, who was in charge explained what the proposition was, and in stating that there was an unusual market for furniture now, showed how a factory could be profitable. He told how the Wippenman factory and warehouse could be secured, and how the machinery which had been used in the other wood working plants in the city could be obtained with little expense. The men who have worked in the furniture factories here for more than twenty-five years past, are anxious to get back to work at their trade, and are backing up this desire by offering to take stock in the new plant should it be started. This, it was explained, would go a long way toward eliminating any strikes and labor troubles which are trying up furniture men and other plants all over the country.

J. R. Iagan explained the condition of the market. He told how things were completely sold out and how every factory that he had tried to purchase goods from had turned him down. There has never been a time in the history of the business, Mr. Iagan stated, when the demand was like it is today. This demand, the men explained, it was going to last for some time as far as can be seen.

Henry Sampson, who is interested in the proposition and who would probably assume the management of the new concern should it be started, explained what machinery would be needed to get into operation and the plan of operation of the plant. The idea would be to turn out some good bed room suits, he explained, getting the men familiar with each operation and thus saving a good deal of time. He gave the figures which they had computed regarding the capital needed and stated that the plant could be gotten into operation within sixty days. The plant would buy their veneered stock and operate as move of an assembling and finishing plant, thus turning over their output several more times a year than is possible when it is necessary to make the veneered stock.

Mr. Erbstein, who has sold the Ahlswag furniture out of the city for a number of years, and who also sold their cartons, explained the condition of the market and stated that the demand for furniture was going to last for some time, as far as could be seen now. He wants to travel for the new company should it be organized, selling on a commission basis.

A number of business men who were not at the meeting are being approached on the matter and should there be sufficient interest aroused the plant will probably be organized.

HAND GRENADES FREE

When the war closed the government had on hand many of the hand grenades which were so useful in breaking up German machine gun nests.

They have removed the high explosives and placed a coin slot over the end, thereby making a valuable souvenir savings bank from one of the most destructive of war weapons. These grenade banks are being distributed free to school children and others, under certain easy conditions regarding Thrift. It is a fine opportunity for every child to secure one.

The First National Bank of Grand Rapids has been appointed as one of the Government Distributing Agents, and is offering them gladly furnished by them on request. Special pains will be taken to instruct the children. It would be a good plan to parents to have their children go to the bank alone and inquire about it, and thus get some experience in business.

WILL REMODEL BUILDING

O. R. Moore, the photographer, has let the contract for some remodeling on his building on First street north, which will fix the structure up suitable for his locating his studio on the lower floor, now occupied by the Gill paint shop. Mr. Moore will have an extension built on the rear of the first floor with a skylight and will probably later use the upper floor for living room. Miller & Schroeder have the contract for the work which will be started in the near future.

WARNING TO CITIZENS

Citizens are warned to be careful during the Soldier Welcome here next week to lock up their homes and valuables during the event. These events generally attract thieves and swindlers from different parts of the state and Grand Rapids people would do well to take a little extra precaution during the two days of the Welcome.

MERRILL PLAYS SUNDAY

The Grand Rapids team has scheduled a game with the Merrill team for next Sunday, when the two teams will meet on the South Side lot in this city. Merrill has been playing some good ball, beating several of the teams up in their section and a good game is looked for.

A card from E. L. Hayward states that they are nicely located down there and that his new work is going fine. Mr. Hayward is in the vocational education work for disabled soldiers.

Contrasts

IT TAKES contrasts to determine real values. Our boys who have been over seas have learned to have a much keener appreciation for a wholesome, well-cooked meal, amid refined surroundings:

They have learned a few other things, too, by contrast. For instance, about clothes. The style and snap, the easy grace of line—in short, the virility of American-made clothes, appeal to them as never before.

Knowing these things, we have a sense of keen satisfaction over our splendid showing of Society Brand Clothes.

The designer of Society Brand styles knows every detail of clothes craft as few men do. He will tolerate nothing but the most skillful tailoring in carrying out his ideas. He insists on the best of materials.

But a written description doesn't do Society Brand Clothes justice. Come in and see for yourself. Also see our unusual selection of men's hats and furnishings.

CALL ON SOLDIERS TO REVIVE W. N. G.

Reorganization Order Is Issued by Adjutant General.

COMPLIES WITH THE NEW LAW

Commissions to Be Tendered to All
Who Served as Officers in U. S.
Army in 1917-18—Board to End Strikes.

Madison.—A call for a reorganization of the Wisconsin National Guard units in all cities and towns in the state where they existed heretofore was issued by Adj. Gen. Orlando Holway, in accordance with bills passed by the legislature and just approved by Governor Philipp.

Former members of the Wisconsin National Guard and overseas men of other divisions are asked to form the nucleus of the new organizations, "which have rendered in the past such splendid service to the state." These men are asked to enlist for one year, and the same privilege is extended to the members of the state guard. New men without service training will be asked to enlist for three years. Full plans were laid before the legislature and were approved.

"By direction of the governor," says the order of General Holway, sent to the legislature "in the United States Army." This order is extended both to persons whose commissions as officers originated in the National Guard and to those whose entry into the military service of the United States was made through other channels, and also to those who were noncommissioned officers and privates who had been definitely recommended for promotion to officer grade in the United States Army previous to the termination of hostilities with Germany.

Already General Holway has received an application from about seventy-five men already who wish to rejoin their National Guard unit now, and of the signers about fifty have been in overseas service of one class or another. The letter points out that the privilege of a short-term enlistment is the returning Guardsman and soldiers because of the "dangerous service in environment and battle campaigns."

"But it was through the concerted and continued effort of its members that the Wisconsin National Guard has proven a more factor in national defense," says General Holway's letter. "The men who made its war record have done great things; but, their spirit being that which overcame every obstacle in battle, which won for them the name of 'fighting fellows' during the end, there remains one thing to be done by them and by those other Wisconsin men who have served in the United States army in the war against Germany. They, and they only, can and must form the strong nucleus of every unit of the reorganized and amplified National Guard now in process of formation, if the campaign and battle knowledge which they have gained is to be preserved and imparted to the recruits who will later take their place; if military companies, valuable training and fighting units and long and honorable history are to keep their identity and continue their existence; and if the Wisconsin National Guard retains what it has gained at great cost, is to take a further long step toward that military efficiency which has always been the goal of its members."

The adjutant general points out the long record won by the different units and holds them up to high praise. The letter concludes: "With the better understanding and hearty co-operation of all citizens the Guard becomes an apt and capable instrument to organize and adequately train such number of citizen soldiers as the present or any future national policy may determine."

With the view that all labor trouble in the state can be settled through a board of conciliation that will give publicity to the findings back of the strike the Nolan bill embodying that idea has passed both houses of the legislature and is approved by the executive. This week Governor Philipp intends to send to the senate the names of the three men who are to have charge of the conciliation work in the state.

Hog Cholera Warning Issued.
Warning to farmers to vaccinate their hogs immediately to save them from cholera was sent out from the veterinary division of the state department of agriculture. Hog cholera has appeared in widely separated parts of the state, and the losses have been reported. There is no necessary loss, veterinarians say, for cholera can be prevented surely by vaccination. Spring hogs are now of proper age and weight to be protected permanently by use of serum or virus, it is declared.

Appointments Are Confirmed.
Governor Philipp's appointments to the state board of control were confirmed by the senate. E. A. Everett of Eagle River and George B. Harris of Wausau, present members, were re-appointed, while Maude E. Neprad of Vilas was named to succeed Laura Brewster of Milwaukee. Miss Neprad will hold office until the first Monday in February, 1921. Mr. Harris's term expires in 1925. Little opposition to the appointments was manifested.

New Teachers' Pension Bill.
Under suspension of the rules, the assembly passed a new bill granting a pension to teachers who have taught in the schools more than 25 years but are not under the teachers' retirement fund. This bill becomes available to male teachers past sixty years of age and female teachers fifty-five years of age who taught 25 years of which 18 years were in the schools of Wisconsin prior to 1911. These teachers are not required to make any payments to maintain this aid. The bill passed by a vote of 45 to 26.

New Laws O. K'd by Governor.

Important laws approved by the governor this week were:

Exemption of property of community centers from taxation.
Permit to work shall contain the statement, prior to July 1, 1920, that such child has passed successfully the sixth grade in school, and after July 1, 1920, that such child has passed successfully the seventh grade in the public school, or in some school having a substantially equivalent course, or that it has attended school for at least eight years.

Municipal plants may sell electric power to dwellings or places of the city limits and to rural communities.

Every company owning a street or interurban railway system in this state shall be deemed to have surrendered all existing licenses, permits or franchises and to have accepted an indeterminate permit unless on or before January 1, 1920, such company shall file with the railroad commission a notice that it elects not to accept an indeterminate permit for its system.

Abolishing the poll tax which has been a law since 1843.

Regulation of private detective agencies and providing a penalty for violations.

Providing for supervision and control by the state board of health of water and ice supplies, water purification, sewage and refuse treatment and disposal and the pollution of streams.

It is the duty of every manufacturer or dealer in motor vehicles in this state to make a monthly report to the secretary of state showing the date of the sale of each motor vehicle sold.

Appropriation of $32,105 for the purchase of approximately 137 acres of land adjoining the present prison property.

State duty and food commissioner shall regulate receiving stations or depots used for receiving and shipping milk or cream.

Wards, or election districts as established, may be divided into two or more districts in which the supervisors shall deem it for the convenience of the voters.

Counties may establish isolation hospitals.

The expense of the maintenance, care and treatment of each inmate in any state or county hospital or asylum for the insane shall be computed at the rate of $2.24 per week.

Closed season for prairie chicken in certain counties.

Requiring the cutting of brush and trimming of trees at railroad highway crossings.

There is appropriated to the governor's contingent fund $1,500 to be expended as advance payments in the preparation of the history of the Thirty-second division.

Repealing the state council of defense act.

To submit to the people an amendment to the constitution which will permit an increase of salary of the members of the legislature.

Increasing the rates for the taxation of grain.

Whenever all persons delivering milk or cream to any cheese factory or creamery shall file a request with the state department of agriculture asking that all of their cattle over the age of six months and numbering 150 or more shall be subjected to the tuberculin test, the said department shall make such test and pay one-half the cost.

Providing for a license to practice massage or hydrotherapy or educational gymnastics.

The governor vetoed the bill introduced by the assembly committee on agriculture to appropriate $3,846.27 with which to purchase 95 acres in Wausau county known as the "Hancock experiment station." The land was bought by farmers and maintained as an experiment station under the supervision of the college of agriculture. The farmers asked that the state take it over at cost and operate it as a state farm.

Rail Board Rates Utility.
The state railroad commission, in its order filed with the Dane county circuit court affirming its former order for $1.30 gas in La Crosse and other cities served by the utility, severely criticizes the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company for its attempt to keep either proper income accounts covering the La Crosse Gas company or a failure to properly present essential facts to either the commission or to the court.

The commission's order for $1.30 gas represented an increase over the $1.22 order made February 25, 1919. The February order was made on figures assumed correct by the commission. Further investigation showed that the company's books had failed to reveal the exact status of affairs.

Amends Anti-Syndicalism Bill.
The senate has amended the anti-syndicalism bill so that it shall not apply to persons attending unlawful meetings who do not have knowledge that such meetings are unlawful. As that such meetings are unlawful. As that such meetings are unlawful.

Unions, farmers' organizations, picketing and political parties from the provisions of the bill was rejected by a vote of 15 to 0. An amendment by Arnold to strike out that provision of the bill aimed at prohibiting the I. W. W. having headquarters in the state was also rejected.

Urges Wilkinson's Appointment.
Senator A. H. Wilkinson of Bayfield was honored by his colleagues when they adopted a resolution submitting his name to President Wilson as the man most capable of filling the position on the international boundary commission of the United States and Canada left vacant by the death of James A. Twiney, formerly United States senator from Minnesota.

The resolution was unanimously adopted and many of the senators contributed short laudatory addresses on Senator Wilkinson's fitness for the position.

Permits Purchase of Food From U. S.
By a vote of 83 to 1, the assembly passed a new bill by Metcalf providing that any city, county, village or town "may purchase food products and supplies from the United States government from the war stores now on hand and are authorized to make all necessary and convenient regulations and provisions for the sale thereof to consumers." The bill also provides that municipalities may provide the funds by a tax levy or otherwise. The measure was asked for by Mayor Hoan, Milwaukee.

The Army Worm and Its Control

How to Dispose of Pest Which Swoops Down on All Green Crops

The army worm that has been doing so much damage to corn, wheat and green crops in various sections of the country, is the caterpillar form of a moth that flies only at night, according to Frank B. Wade, deputy entomologist for the Indiana state conservation commission. In a bulletin issued by the commission, Mr. Wade describes the family history of the pest and tells the most approved methods of fighting it.

"To begin with," said Mr. Wade, "the moth is about one and one-half inches across the spread wings and is brownish gray in color. The caterpillar, when full grown, is about one and one-half inches long, is smooth, and is usually greenish in general color with one broad stripe of dark gray or black down the middle of the back and with a narrower stripe of the same color on either side. The broad stripe usually has a fine light broken stripe running down its center. The head is greenish-brown, speckled with black."

"It is this caterpillar form that does the damage by eating every green thing within reach. So numerous do they sometimes become that one can actually hear them eat in concert. When they have cleaned up on the food supply in one field they move en masse to an adjoining field, and thus comes about the familiar name of army worm."

"The full grown caterpillar ceases to feed and goes into the pupa or resting stage after from three to four weeks of feeding. Here it remains beneath the surface of the soil, as a rule, for about two weeks. The pupae look something like dead seeds. The moth on emerging from the pupal case dries its wings and flies away to mate. The eggs are then laid usually in the folded part of grass blades, and they hatch in from eight to ten days, thus starting the tiny caterpillars once more."

"To control these pests one should be alert to detect the first attack, for the area invaded is usually relatively small at first and may be moved off and straw scattered and burned, thus destroying the caterpillars. Another method of control is to spray the infested area heavily with paris green (one pound to 50 gallons of water) or with lead arsenate (two pounds to 50 gallons). Such sprayed material should, of course, not be used as feed."

"Poisoned bait will also do good service. Make up a bran mash with 50 pounds of wheat bran and one pound of paris green or two pounds of lead arsenate and moisten it with cheap molasses or syrup and add the juice of half a dozen lemons or oranges. By scattering this bait broadcast throughout the infested area in small pieces, a large number of worms may be killed."

"To keep the worms from moving on to new feeding grounds, trenches should be plowed entirely around the infested area. The trench should be at least six inches deep and should have a vertical side toward the new ground. It should have postholes at intervals for the worms to fall into and it should be kept as dusty as possible by dragging a log through it to pulverize the soil. It should be tended at all times when the worms are on the move, as they should be burned when they begin to get numerous in the trench. A gasoline torch or straw covered with coal oil may be used for this purpose."

"In wet weather the trench will not stop the worms, and then a line of heavy road oil laid an inch or two wide on a smooth hard surface should be used. Drag a plank heavily loaded with stones over the ground to prepare the surface for the oil."

"The army worm appears about the same time each year, but in small numbers and without doing noticeable damage. It is only when, because of circumstances which are not thoroughly understood, the army worm becomes very numerous, that it is a menace. Probably some of its natural enemies fared ill last winter and were not on hand in their usual numbers to dispose of the worms this spring. At any rate they are with us, and if not properly handled they bid fair to do more damage in the localities where they appear than the seventeen-year locust."

Famous White Sox Second
Baseman in His Old Form
Both at Bat and Afield

Age is no handicap to Eddie Collins, famous second baseman of the Chicago White Sox. At least the Tarrytown lad has betrayed no sign of decay thus far in the season's campaign, and in the series at the Polo grounds has flashed all his old form at the bat and afield. Collins and Schank are the backbone of the Sox, the mainspring by which the play of the club afield is directed.

Collins certainly is as fast as he has been through the last few seasons, and although he has not invaded the 360 circle in batting he is sure to arrive up there in the early future. Furthermore, Collins has more to do with infusing into the Sox than any other individual in the outfit, with the exception of Kid Gleason, the manager, who is a fighter down to the ground and one of the best all around good fellows in the pastime.

KEEPING CHICKENS
IN TOWN

In many towns and cities there are ordinances restricting the keeping of fowls under certain conditions, namely, that the neighbors shall not be annoyed by the crowing of the male birds and that the poultry house must be located a specified distance from any dwelling. Under such conditions, says the United States department of agriculture, a permit should be easy to obtain and the conditions set forth complied with.

The male bird in the flock is not necessary for the production of eggs and usually the house can be so located and kept clean that it will not annoy the neighbors.

MOTHER'S
by Nellie Maxwell

The life that is sharing in the interests, the welfare and the happiness of others, is one that is continually expanding in beauty and in power and, therefore, in happiness.

Chopped Apple Fritters.
Take one cupful of flour, half a cupful of sugar, three apples, one egg, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one cupful of milk and a pinch of salt. Mix as usual, stirring in the chopped apples at the last. Drop by spoonfuls in hot fat and serve as dessert. Green apples are much better flavored if they are used unpeeled.

Oatmeal Cookies.
Take one cupful of shortening, one cupful of sugar, two cupfuls of flour and two cupfuls of rolled oats well browned and put through the meat grinder; one cupful of chopped raisins, half a cupful of broken nut meats, two eggs, half a teaspoonful

Parsley Potatoes.
Cook small-sized uniform, new potatoes until well done, turn into a vegetable dish with enough butter to cover, sprinkle with minced parsley and serve at once.

Good Things for the Family.
As the new apples are now in season, serve them in other ways than as apple pie and sauce. Sliced green apples with one-third as many sliced onions cooked in a little sweet fat with water added as the moisture is evaporated makes a most appetizing dish to serve as a vegetable. Add sugar to soften the acid of the apple and salt and pepper if desired.

Sponge Cake Trifle.
Cut a slice of sponge cake and moisten with cherry juice and a few halves of cherries, put another slice on top and add more juice and cherries. Serve sprinkled with shredded almonds.

Frank Talcott, star pitcher of the Yale university baseball team last year, has signed a contract with the Detroit Americans.

Reading Fans Enthusiastic.
If there is any international league franchise to be transferred, it won't be from Reading fans. Reading is turning out about the best attendance in the league.

Team Comes Out Ahead.
University of Virginia baseball team made a profit of $2,421.07 this year.

$80,000 for Stadium.
The new Pershing stadium at Joint Base, near Paris, cost about $80,000.

Boost Yankee Sports Abroad.
American athletic directors in France are introducing our system of athletics to physical instructors and will continue the work in playgrounds, factories, etc.

Much of the time Billy Smith's Shreveport team has been winning its games the manager himself has been a sick man, but with an able lieutenant like Tommy Leach the team rolled along smoothly over all opposition.

That no-hit games by Rod Eller in Cincinnati, by the way, was the first pitched in Cincinnati since Noodles Hahn turned the trick for the Reds back in 1900 against the Phillies. The Reds have had some great pitchers since then, but their feature work, when done, was away from home.

Expect Things of Quinn.
According to Pat Quinn, scout for the New York Yankees, Jack Quinn is going to make all the American league sit up and take notice this season.

Basketball Game Booked.
Loyola college, Baltimore, has booked a basketball game with Yale for January 8, 1920.

Flat Horse Racing.
England's flat horse racing this year will continue 181 days.

Children's Minds Should Be Stored With Pictures They Can Describe in Own Words

Memorizing is a worthy mental exercise; but one can hardly help protesting against the practice, now happily less common than in years within memory, of compelling young children to commit to memory tasks actually painful either from their impossible length or from their uninteresting and unintelligible matter. The good practice of a pleasurable habit of learning by heart a suitable quantity of suitable matter has suffered from a natural reaction; but we are now returning to better things, and we are convinced that there are few efforts more pleasant to children than the consciousness of having committed to memory a suitable task, that is, of having formed a clear and complete picture of some interesting subject.

Do not let the time pass for storing your scholars' minds with an abundance of distinct pictures, which they can represent to their own minds and describe in their own words.—A Teacher.

Indian Talk Was Too Much For Fritz When He Tried to Tap the Yankee Wires

There was one code Fritz never got on to in France. That was the Sioux. A soldier just back from France tells of it:

"A good many German spies got over into the allied lines," said the Yank, who was in charge of a communicating battery. "And there was some tapping of lines and listening in by German agents who understood English perfectly. We got around that in a clever way. We put Sioux Indians on the telephones to send and receive orders."

"Ump, gloom, loo-hoo, moo, chunk," an Indian would repeat over the telephone, meaning 'bring up a battery of 75's.'

"Og, gog, pom, hegan, cachoo, rak-ek," would come the answer, which might mean, 'they're starting, will be there in five minutes.'

"I don't know how much of a technical war vocabulary these Sioux had, but Fritz never got wise to the lingo."

How Light Changes Shape of Pupil of Eye of Both Animal and the Human

Nothing is more deceptive than the appearance of a cat's eye. The pupil ordinarily appears as a long, narrow oval or a vertical black line, yet its natural shape is circular. It is a matter of the effect of light. In a bright light our pupils become very small circles, while those of a cat turn into ovals or narrow slits. The general effect is the same in either case—namely, to diminish the quantity of light passing into the eye. Curiously enough, in the larger animals of the cat tribe, such as tigers, the pupil sometimes behaves exactly like a human pupil, and when brightly illuminated contracts into a minute circle instead of becoming linear. In the case of domestic cats, the older the animal the more frequently does the pupil of the eye assume a circular form.

Worth Remembering.
There is virtue in country houses, in gardens and orchards, in fields, streams and groves, in rustic recreations and plain manners, that neither cities nor universities enjoy.—Alcott.

MANAGER GRIFFITH DECLARES WALTER JOHNSON AS GOOD AS HE EVER WAS

Washington Twirler Who Is Good for Several Years, declares Manager Clark Griffith of the Nationals.

"Walter Johnson has four or five more years before him," declares Manager Clark Griffith of the Nationals. "Johnson is as good as ever he was." Griffith continued. "He is just past his thirty-second birthday and when seen at work he really looks like a youngster."

Asked whether Johnson was suffering with a sore arm this season, the manager replied: "I have never known Walter to have a sore arm. There was talk about his arm being sore at the opening of the season, but it was not so. He was suffering from a bad cold, which caused general indisposition."

HEINIE ZIMMERMAN IS GOING STRONG

Veteran Has Stood Strain of Eleven Seasons With Majors.

Prediction of Various Scribes That He Would Be Displaced at Third Base
Not Yet Fulfilled—Slow in Returning Into Form.

After a player has stood the gaff in the major leagues for eleven years he is labeled "all in" the first time he shows a sign of slipping.

This was the sort of a "rawberry" handed to Heinie Zim in 1917, even before he got himself into the lineup in the world's series by chasing Eddie Collins home in that now famous Marathon of 90 feet, which was promptly pointed out as a one-nerd thriller and given the title "In a Flash or Man Than You Are, Heinie Zim."

Last fall, after the Giants had closed their curtailed season, various scribes predicted that 1919 would find somebody else filling the shoes of the great Zim at third base for the Giants.

New York scribes led the gang who expertly pointed out that the great one was on the slide; that his legs were growing stiff and his throwing arm turning to glass. Then they started picking out a soft spot for Heinie to fight. Some chose first base for him, and the ones who were less hopeful relegated him to right field, just as though John McGraw would think for half a second of displacing a crack young player like Ross Young.

Heinie kept his pace through all the long winter of 1918, his legs getting into a uniform and started sawing wood in his own way, taking his time and working hard to get into shape. Eight hours' work a day in a Jersey shipyard during part of the winter had not done Zimmerman any noticeable harm, but like most of the veterans, Zim rounds into shape slowly, and like most athletes of an aggressive nature who have a few years of experience, the Pirates didn't give a tinker's rap what anybody thought about it. "Let him try displacing me at third base and there'll be a funeral for somebody," was the way Zim looked at it.

When the Giants returned for Galesville to start spring training the veteran Zim was very much in evidence. He got into a uniform and started sawing wood in his own way, taking his time and working hard to get into shape. DR. GODDARD will be at the WITTER HOTEL, Grand Rapids, Thursday, July 31st Consultation Free Hours 9 to 6

Don't Take My Word-- They Say I Cure Do You Believe THEM? Here's The Proof:

DR. GODDARD
Nine out of ten practicing physicians hate to see a person suffering from a CHRONIC ailment come into their office. Such cases as a rule are not hard to treat but take careful, patient service on the part of the doctor and are a class of people who having become despondent and discouraged with the chronicity of their troubles are irritable, cross and hard to handle. A physician in order to successfully treat this class of patients must be peculiarly adapted by temperament and training to handle these cases in such a way as not only to offend them but to secure their co-operation and confidence. It is just such qualifications as these, added to his expert knowledge in the treating of chronic diseases, that has made DR. GODDARD, the MILWAUKEE SPECIALIST, so successful in treating CHRONIC CASES and he is justified in wanting this class of people for his patients. If you or any of your family or friends are in this class—CHRONIC SUFFERERS—and you have been treated unsuccessfully by your local or other physicians and yet have a longing hope to be cured, come and see DR. GODDARD on his next visit to GRAND RAPIDS on THURSDAY, JULY 31st at the WITTER HOTEL, and without one cent of cost to you, consult this man who makes a specialty of treating CHRONIC APPENDICITIS, RUPTURE, GALL STONE, COLIC, GOITRE, VARICOSE VEINS and ULCERS, diseases of the STOMACH and BOWELS and all CHRONIC DISEASES, and let him examine you and give you a TRUTHFUL and HONEST opinion as to what can be done for you. DR. GODDARD comes to us highly recommended and counts among his patients many of the best known people in this city. Under no circumstances will he accept any incurable case for treatment but will frankly and honestly tell you what is best to do. CONSULTATION is FREE and ABSOLUTELY CONFIDENTIAL. If you cannot call personally write to him at his address below for his little book which is FREE, entitled "MODERN METHODS OF TREATING CHRONIC DISEASES without OPERATIONS." It is intensely interesting. A postal card will bring it to you in a plain envelope. DR. GODDARD will again be at the WITTER HOTEL, GRAND RAPIDS, THURSDAY, JULY 31st from 9 A. M. to 7 P. M. and every four weeks thereafter.

STEAL SOO LINE'S "JUICE" TO ELECTROCUTE GOPHERS

The Stevens Point Journal tells the following story of some youthful fellows, who have modernized gopher hunting, but who got into trouble doing it:

"This is an age of electricity, but the use of the 'juice' for electrocuting gophers is something new. The experiment was tried by a dozen Stevens Point boys, ranging in age from 11 to 14 years, and while its efficacy was concerned, it set the stage for the appearance in county court of the youthful experimenters.

"The story was brought out in court Monday afternoon, when the 12 youngsters were arraigned before Judge J. A. Murat on complaint of Merrill Guyant, special agent for the Soo line, who charged them with interfering with telegraph communication along the line. It seemed that the boys have been in the habit of playing along the Plover river, near the Soo line right of way, and that they conceived the idea of 'tapping' the telegraph wires that run along the track. The wires at one point near the Plover river are quite low, where they run over a knoll, and the boys proceeded to throw a copper wire over them, forming a contact. With this they secured current for their war on gophers and it is said, even gave the electrical treatment to a dog.

"After trying the scheme several times, interfering with the telegraph communication on the line, they finally neglected to take down their wire after they had conducted a series of experiments. The result was that the men, who had been investigating the mysterious 'leak' located the trouble and put Mr. Guyant on the trail. The latter ran the case down and succeeded in rounding up the gang.

STATE UNIVERSITY LOST MANY STUDENTS IN WAR

On hundred and twenty-five students and alumni of the University of the 4,796 who participated in the war, were killed while in the service, according to the statistics which have been compiled at Madison. One hundred and twenty-four of these former students were men, one woman dying in uniform.

Of the 125 heroes 33 were killed in action, 17 died of wounds or gas, seven were aviators killed in combat or in flight at the front, six were aviators killed at flying schools in America or France. One man was killed in accident in France, 33 died of disease in America, 32 died of disease in France, Russia, England or on shipboard, and one man died in a Torpedow transport. Three Badgers lost their lives in the Russian expedition.

Branches of service of the honored dead were approximately as follows: Infantry, 50; aviation, 21; navy, 8; marines, 2; medical corps, 4; ambulance service, 3; machine gun, 1; artillery, 19; intelligence, 1; quartermaster, 3; engineers, 5; cavalry, 2; chemical warfare, 2; shipbuilder, 1; Y. M. C. A., 1; geological survey, 1. Two were with the Canadian forces and one was with the Australian forces.

One lieutenant colonel one major five captains, 52 lieutenants, 10 sergeants, eight corporals, 21 privates, and two ensigns are included in the gold star roll.

Seven of the honored dead received the Distinguished Service Cross, five the Croix de Guerre and five others were cited for bravery.

AUBURNDALE HERO HOME

Marshallfield Herald—Private Charles Kennedy of Auburndale, who is home from Fort Sheridan on a 30 day furlough, was a caller at the Herald office Tuesday. At present he is taking treatment for his eyes which went back on him after being wounded. It will be remembered that he was with Sergeant Willard Purdy when he was killed and received 23 direct hits when the hand grenades that took Purdy's life exploded. Kennedy remained in the trench after being wounded from 1:30 a. m. until 8:30 a. m. without surgical aid and only for his brother and companions would have bled to death. He was unconscious for 13 days. His brother, Arthur is still with the army of occupation in Germany. He is a son of John Kennedy of Auburndale.

THE WRONG BIRD

One of Booker Washington's best stories—a joke at the expense of his own race—is quoted in Frederick Lynch's One Great Society. A negro was asked by a white citizen to supply his family regularly with turkey—game ones, not wild, the latter being occasionally in the market. One week a member of the family found some shot in his portion of the bird. The turkey vender was expostulated with, "You sent us a wild turkey this time; there were shot in it." The Negro, scratched his head, "Dead, no boss," he explained, "dat was it tame bird all right. Dat shot was meant to me."

CAPT. OTJEN COMING TO ADDRESS PUBLIC

Captain C. J. Otjen, the Milwaukee veteran of the First Division of the A. E. F., who spoke here in the interests of the Victory Liberty Loan in April, will address the citizens of this city at a mass meeting, the date of which will be announced later. The meeting will be held in the interests of organizing a National Guard troop in this city to take the place of Co. K, which will cease to exist as soon as the National Guard is organized in Wisconsin. Captain Otjen is probably one of the very best speakers that has ever appeared on a platform in Grand Rapids. Addressing a crowd that pretty well filled the Armory at the Liberty Loan meeting, he held the keenest interest of everyone of his listeners.

Captain Otjen went to France with the first division of Americans sent overseas. He entered the trenches in the fall of 1917 with the first American troops that participated in the World War as an American unit. His experiences with this division, which saw the heaviest fighting that American troops experienced in France, were varied and interesting, and the story that he brought back to Grand Rapids citizens was one that thrilled every person in the audience. Captain Otjen's experience as an attorney makes him a very capable speaker, able to describe the experiences in an intelligent and interesting manner.

Altho a veteran of the regular army, which had always scoffed the national guard previous to the World War, the record made by the boys of the Thirty-Second division and other national guard units has brought the guard recognition by every veteran of the regular army. These veterans realize the importance of having men trained ready to meet the emergencies which soldiers must face in battle, and the need of having men trained ready for instant mobilization. The national guard offers this possibility and Captain Otjen will speak here to the people of Grand Rapids on the necessity and the advantages of Grand Rapids furnishing a unit for the Wisconsin National guard.

Already a large number of the men who have returned from the service have indicated their intention of joining a national guard unit should one be formed here. Feeling that many do not understand the matter thoroughly and that a man who has probably seen as much action as any member of the A. E. F., Captain Hirschleib has secured the Milwaukee to explain the advantages of having a national guard unit here. The date for the mass meeting has not been designated as yet but will probably be held the latter part of this month.

WHAT LABOR WANTS (Milwaukee Journal)

What labor wants is democracy. It is not wages. Even when it gets more wages it is not satisfied. In countries where labor is best paid it is most insurgent. It is not shorter hours. It is not welfare work. It is not uplift. It is not charity of any kind, nor coddling, nor sympathy nor being helped, nor any such thing. When you look into the heart of the workman, you discover that all he wants is democracy. He wants to be treated as a human being. He does not want to be bought and sold as a chattel, to be bossed as a slave, nor to be herded as a steer. He feels he is a man. And the fundamental desire of a man is his manliness. That is, that he may determine his life and the conditions under which he shall work; that he shall have the privilege of expressing his opinions, making his mistakes, choosing his friends and forming his organizations.

All the trouble with labor has risen from the notion, inherited from the dark past, that the man who supports himself by his daily work is somehow inferior to the man who is supported by an endowment. This is the root poison. The object of all reform in this essential matter," says Mr. Wilson "must be the general democratization of industry based upon a full recognition of the rights of those who work in whatever rank to participate in some organic way in every decision which directly affects their welfare."

Let the capitalist and laborer sit down together and talk things over. That way lies the untying of all social and economic hard knots. Stop the hating, cursing, contempt and intolerance. Believe in men! All men are fair. That is a safe general rule. All men want to be fair. Despise no man. Have done with contempt and defiance and silly heroics. Treat men right. Approach men with courtesy. Respect men.

Nothing makes a real American more disgusted than to hear the employer talk of the unfairness, stupidity and stubbornness of working people, or to hear the labor agitator talk of the tyranny, injustice and greed of employers. Both statements, as generalizations, are lies.

Of course there are selfish and bullying men in all walks of life, in the directors' room and at the work bench. But the average man is fair-minded. He does not want to cheat nor to tyrannize. Neither does he want to be uplifted or improved. He wants a square deal. That's all.

HE SAVED HIS MONEY BY ELIMINATING MIDDLEMAN

Black River Falls Journal—J. H. Carnahan recently delivered a lecture on the principles of the Equity Society in one of the neighboring counties. Joe warmed up to the subject and poured forth his convictions in a manner that struck home to its hearers. He explained how the middlemen and speculators had been boosting the high cost of living for their own personal benefit and pleasure, and wound up with a stirring appeal for a new system which would cut out the middlemen—the men "who weave not, neither do they spin," but nevertheless ride in high-powered cars and smoke real fine cigars. The next morning, one of Joe's hearers was seen speeding toward town in his Winton six, and upon being questioned he explained that his wife had been taken suddenly and seriously ill. "Going for a doctor?" inquired a friend. "Not much," was the reply, "I heard Joe Carnahan speak last night. He said to cut out the middlemen, so I am on my way to fetch the undertaker."

THREATEN TO PROSECUTE FRAUDULENT OIL DEALERS

Dairy and Food Commissioner G. J. Weigle, who has just returned from a brief vacation in the northern part of the state declared this morning that a wholesale fraud is being perpetrated upon the farmers of the state principally in the sale of the so-called linseed oil and turpentine, and as soon as he has sufficiently warned dealers he proposes to start prosecutions.

"The law is very explicit as to how mixed or compounded oils or turpentine shall be labeled," said Mr. Weigle, "and there is really no excuse for dealers, either in the cities or in smaller centers, selling so-called linseed oil or turpentine minus the proper labels, to inform buyers what they are paying for."

Just now the dealers of the state are being swamped with letters and circulars from several oil concerns outside the state, advertising "Adulterated Boiled Linseed Oil." The manufacturers of these compounds apparently hope to evade the law by using the word "Adulterated," but they cannot do that. I propose through the newspapers to first give dealers or agents notice to stop the sale of these goods, which of course are sold mostly to farmers, and people of small means, who do their own painting, and then prosecute to the limit every one found selling them. Here is what the law requires and it will be seen that the use of the word "Adulterated" in place of the actual list of ingredients, does not at all meet the requirements.

(Sub-section 3 of Section 163L, Wisconsin Statutes).

"Linseed oil compounds designed to take the place of raw or boiled oil, whether sold, offered or exposed for sale, under invented proprietary names or titles, or otherwise shall bear conspicuously upon the containing receptacle in which the same is kept for sale or sold, an ordinary bold-faced capital letter, not less than five line picas in size the word 'Compound' followed immediately with the true distinctive names of the actual ingredients in the order of their greater preponderance in the English language in plain legible type of the same style, not less than three line picas in size, etc."

RAISE IN TUITION WILL INCREASE SCHOOL FUND

The raise in the maximum of the tuition rates charged to pupils from the outlying districts from one to two dollars, will mean an additional fund of about three thousand dollars a year to the schools of Grand Rapids, should the school board charge the maximum tuition rate, as they will undoubtedly do. They are at the present time charging the maximum of one dollar and as the increase of two dollars a week does not mean the cost of educating a pupil, it will undoubtedly be the new tuition rate. The tuition is paid by the town from which the pupil enrolls.

During the past year the local schools had a tuition income of about $2,600, the influenza epidemic which closed the schools for several weeks cutting down the income about four hundred dollars. The school census has shown an increase every year and according to Supt. E. G. Doudnas, it is estimated that during the coming year there will be about one hundred non-resident pupils attending the Grand Rapids public schools.

The establishing of a union high school at Arpin might mean a small decrease in the non-resident enrollment, however, as the Vesper people voted down the union high school proposition by a large majority it is evident that they are still satisfied to send their young people to this city to receive their education. Many school boards in central Wisconsin have already adopted the new tuition rate, it being up to the Grand Rapids Board of Education to act upon it at their August meeting.

Sheriff of Wood County, Wis.
D. D. Conway, Plaintiff's Attorney.

GIVE CITIZENS CHANCE TO SELECT STATE HIGHWAYS

The legislature of 1919 has authorized the addition of 2500 miles of road to the 5000 mile State Trunk Highway system selected in 1917.

There will be hearings at all county seats to gain information on which to base the selection of the new Trunk Highways. Any essential changes in the present system and any re-arrangement of the present system made necessary by proposed new routes may also be brought up at these hearings.

The hearing for Wood County will be held by the State Highway Commission at the Court House in Grand Rapids beginning at 2:00 o'clock, P. M. August 7th, 1919. All interested citizens are invited to attend and present their views.

Wisconsin Highway Commission.

LET FIRST COUSINS MARRY

According to a new law, a copy of which has been received by County Clerk Sam Church, first cousins can be married—that is, if the bride will admit that she is fifty years of age or more. The one stipulation which requires that the bride reveal the past is the new regulation. In her age may attach somewhat of a handicap to the new regulation. In the past it has been illegal for first cousins to marry in Wisconsin, regardless of their age.

TALK CONCRETE ROAD FROM MEEHAN TO STEVENS POINT

After testing the macadam roads near Stevens Point for several years, during which time it has been necessary to make repairs practically every year, the people over there are considering asking the County Board for enough money to pave the road from Plover to their city with concrete. The town of Plover, it is stated, would also like to have concrete from Meehan to Plover, which would mean a continuous stretch of concrete from Meehan to Stevens Point.

Should these adjoining communities carry out their intentions next year the much talked of concrete road from Grand Rapids to Stevens Point would be a realization rather than a dream, as Wood County will have this road paved to the county line with concrete this fall, leaving only a stretch of five miles from the county line to Meehan which would not be paved.

The Portage county highway commissioner had a crew of men at work on the Plover-Stevens Point macadam the latter part of the week, filling up the holes and oiling. This is on route ten which runs up to Ashland and as the travel is rather heavy over this route the road has been pretty badly cut up.

VEGETABLES AS MEDICINE

Watercress is an excellent blood purifier. Lettuce has a soothing effect on the nerves and is excellent for sufferers from insomnia.

Tomatoes are good for a torpid liver, but should be avoided by gouty people.

Celery is a fine nerve tonic; onions also are a tonic for the nerves.

Spinach has great aperient qualities, and is far better than medicine for sufferers from constipation.

Beet root is fattening and good for people who want to put on flesh. Parsnips possess the same virtue as sarsaparilla.

Cranberries correct the liver.

Asparagus stimulates the kidneys.

Bananas are beneficial to sufferers from chest complaints.

Celery contains sulphur and helps to ward off rheumatism.

Honey is a good substitute for cod liver oil.

The juice of a lemon is excellent for sore throat, but should not be swallowed, but used as a gargle.

One-Sided Humor.

After the company had gone, Mrs. Mason said to her husband, "What on earth did you mean, John, by telling the Flemings that my humor was positive, but not negative?" "I meant," said Mr. Mason, discreetly moving toward the door, "that you could make a joke, but couldn't take one!"

ESCAPING GAS FATAL TO STEVENS POINT ATTORNEY

T. H. Hanna, prominent Stevens Point attorney, who is well known in this city, was found dead in a bath tub in his home last Thursday evening at 6:30. The man's death was caused by asphyxiation, the gas escaping from a gas heater which he was using to heat the bathroom. Mr. Hanna had not been well and had been suffering from chills. His physician instructed him to take a hot bath and go to bed, which he had evidently started to do. It is thought that he became drowsy when he got into the warm water, falling asleep. Later gas pressure on the stove forced the connecting tube off, permitting the gas to escape into the room. The physician discovered him when he called in the evening to see how his patient was getting along. Mrs. Hanna and her son were in Chicago at the time. Mr. Hanna being home alone. Mr. Hanna was a member of the law firm, Nelson & Hanna, and was one of the well known attorneys of Wisconsin, being prominent in democratic politics.

WILL RETAIN GROCERY HOUSE

C. E. Blodgett, who announced recently that he was going to retire and would close his wholesale grocery house this fall, has sold the grocery business to T. F. Branham, of Eau Claire, who will conduct it in the future. The new company will be located in the Juneau Hotel property, which they will remodel.

HANCOCK GINSENG GROWER HAD RECORD PRICED 1000

Hancock News—Five years ago Gene Cavas and his sons planted a quarter acre ginseng bed and a like amount to golden sand on their farm north of this village, reserving these beds when the farm was later sold to Chas. Leavitt. A few weeks ago Mr. Cavas dug his ginseng and in company with Clifford Jones took it on the latter's auto truck to Wausau to be dried. The largest ginseng bed in Wisconsin is at Wausau where they have an equipment for properly drying it. Mr. Cavas' load weighed about one ton when green but dried down to about 600 pounds. On Wednesday he received a check for the sum of $2658.47, which is the largest amount ever paid for one load of any Hancock product, and from only one-fourth acre of ground. Mr. Cavas has also sold $600 worth of golden seal and has most of it yet to sell. While these amounts are large they are not all profit as it cost quite a sum for plants to set out the beds and provide shelter and care for them. But Mr. Cavas feels that with his experience he could do even better next time.

Whale's Small Throat.

The whale has a tiny throat although the head is from one-quarter to one-third of the length of the body, and the mouth 15 to 20 feet long and six to eight feet wide. The opening of the gullet is not larger than a man's fist.

Consider for a moment

THIS store is primarily an institution of service. Our efforts in your behalf are not centered merely on selling you clothes, but chiefly on getting the right kind for you. For us it is a Continual Quest for Quality, and we spare neither time, energy nor resources in gathering and assembling clothes that will reflect the High Quality standards that are the life and policy of this business.

KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHES

represent very accurately the high ideals which actuate us in our purpose of service-giving. In all the elements that combine to make better clothes—in style, in fabrics, in patterns, in workmanship, in wearability—they reach a point of excellence that will pass muster before the most critical clothes judges in the land. There's a Kuppenheimer suit here for you that will please you, become you and fit you.

Delicate Mechanism

Despite its scope Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

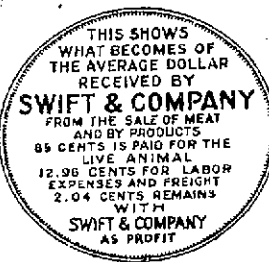

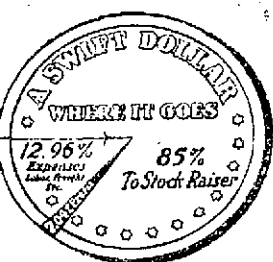

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar". It will interest you.

NEKOOSA-EDWARDS VIEW ON OPEN SHOP PROBLEM

(Contributed by Nekoosa-Edwards Co.)

The following, taken from Sunday's Milwaukee Journal, expresses the view of the Nekoosa-Edwards Company in regard to the open shop problem.

"C. A. Finnegan, publisher of The Commercial, has launched a nationwide fight for the open shop on the grounds of its Americanism. He denounces the closed shop as tyrannical, says it will enslave the worker and place him under the domination of the employer.

"Mr. Finnegan has addressed an open letter to the publishers of five newspapers in this city, asking them to take a stand on this issue. The papers are The News, The Times, The Courier, The Enquirer and The Express. His letter follows:

"With thousands upon thousands of workmen on strike throughout the United States, some on one grievance others on another, there is one common demand (closed shop) in all cases. You must know that these employers in various industries who are fighting for the maintenance of the open shop are making enormous sacrifices of time and money to uphold that greatest of all American traditions, individual freedom to employer and employee alike.

"You must know these employers claim closed shop unionism means cost to the employer that it is not only illegal, but morally wrong as well.

"In spite of the growth of industrial unrest reaching now to proportions of a national menace, you have most carefully refrained from taking any stand on the spread of this vicious un-American condition and the time has come when your readers radical union sympathizers, or supporters of law and order as they may be, are entitled to know where you stand.

"You must meet this issue. It must be met by every American citizen sooner or later. You can procrastinate. You can hold back. But you cannot refuse some day to face it and you must answer it as your conscience and your loyalty to American institutions and American ideals dictate. Inaction will indicate that either you now lack the courage to meet the forces being organized to destroy our democracy or that you favor their program."

SENECA YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED ON TUESDAY

Miss Louise May and Carl E. Schiefelbein, both well known young people of the town of Seneca, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. C. A. Mellicke, of this city performing the ceremony.

Miss Alma Schiefelbein was the bridesmaid while Fred A. May was the groomsmen. The bride was very attractively gowned in white crepe de chine carrying a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid also made a very attractive appearance in light blue French voile and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The groom and his attendant wore the conventional black.

The home had been very prettily decorated for the occasion, flowers and ferns making it appropriately attractive for the affair. A supper and party which followed the ceremony entertained the young people and their friends, making the wedding one which will long be remembered.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John May, of the town of Seneca, who are very well and favorably known in this city as well as in their home community. She is a most estimable young lady who has a host of friends. The groom is one of the progressive young farmers out in the town of Seneca, an industrious young man who will make his mark in life. The young couple will make their home in the town of Seneca and settle down to housekeeping with the best wishes of the Tribune and a host of other friends.

SURPRISED MRS. CARLSON

Mrs. Sarah Carlson was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends Saturday evening at her home on 16th Ave. North. The occasion being her birthday.

Among those present were Elsie Sanger, Ella Swarick, Martha Yant, Ruth Henriksen, Anna Henriksen, Hilda Henke, Grace Green, Isabel Green, Lieut. Barcalow, Private Knight, Corp. Fisher, George Steinko, William Sanger, Ray Bongard, Ed. Henke, Ted Frank, Walter Frank, Dick Knuth and Marcus Oleson.

Games were played and at a late hour a delicious luncheon was served and all report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hirzy and family of Stevens Point were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hirzy at their club house up the river on Sunday.

OLD SETTLER DEAD

Albert Hanneman, aged eight-six years, one of the old settlers of the town of Grant died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Timm, in the town of Grant Sunday evening at eight-thirty. The cause of death was the hardening of the arteries caused by his advanced years.

Mr. Hanneman was one of the well known settlers of this section, having come here many years ago and grown and prospered with the country. He has made a wide circle of friends and acquaintances during his life in this community and his death was a sad one to his many friends.

Mr. Hanneman is survived by four sons and two daughters, the former being William, Albert, Herman, and Charles all of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. Albert Timm, of the town of Grant and Mrs. Bertha Badel of Minnesota.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the home and 2:30 from the Lutheran church at Kellner, Rev. Radtke, officiating. Burial was made in the Kellner cemetery.

FIRE DESTROYED ROOF

A fire which started from sparks alighting on the roof badly damaged the saloon building owned by Ed. Hayes, on First Avenue south, Tuesday afternoon. The blaze had gained some headway before it was discovered and the roof was pretty well burned before the flames could be extinguished. The roof on the P. Dudley home, two doors south, was alight at the same time, evidently also ignited from the flying sparks, however it was put out with little damage.

SHOES THAT FIT THE FOOT

Let Us Fit YOU With a Pair Today

Comfort and Grace in Arch Preserver Shoes

THESE shoes have nothing freakish or conspicuous about their shape. They are as smart as can be. Their comfort results from special construction and new last modeling that provide an instep which comes up and stays up snug to the arch of your foot.

They are anatomically designed and scientifically fitted to prevent flatfoot and other arch troubles, and to preserve the high sweeping arch you were born with. By their comfort and support they permit a springy, youthful step and promote a graceful carriage. They assist in restoring health, beauty and comfort to unhappy feet.

Every active woman will be keenly interested in the wonderful story told in the booklet, "The Story of Beautiful Feet". It tells how this Arch Preserver Shoe has brought comfort and grace to thousands of women. Mothers will also be surprised to learn how much their shoes have to do with the weak ankles and foot troubles of their children. Come in and get your copy. It is free.

When calling, we will be glad to show and explain the Arch Preserver Shoe to you. A visit to our store places you under no obligation to buy.

The SHOE For Comfort and Dress

Do Not Overlook These Specials!

You will find in each department a Special Bargain. We are offering one lot of Children's White Wash Hats for Friday and Saturday at a 25 Per Cent Discount. You will find these Hats displayed in our Corset Department.

Our Dry Goods Department is offering Serpentine Crepe as a Special. It will pay you to put in an extra supply of this crepe as the market has advanced and you will not be able to purchase it anywhere under 40c per yard. But we looked ahead and are able to offer you this Special at 29c per yard.
